MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Personnel

SUBJECT : Professional Attrition in DDI Offices

1. As we understand the figures for the last six months of calendar year 1963, professional separations in DDI offices averaged 60 percent higher than other Deputy Directorates. ORR and OCR seem to be over 100 percent higher than the average of other Directorates.

2. Do we interpret these figures correctly or are there factors which don't appear in these statistics? Are the reasons for these separations understood and accepted as a cost of doing business?

3. Do you consider this a matter about which the Office of Personnel should be concerned, or is this kind of problem - if it is one - left to DDI and his Career Services?
